

Hello my name is Gregory Harris;

5-28-

I'm looking to meet a good pen-pal. A caring God fearing friend who may want to share and care there ups and downs this life brings.
I will be truthful up front and give you the real deal on my life and how I feel.
The mistakes I've made and how I'm trying to change my life now for the better now and always from this point on. If I can be of any help for you I will do my best to give you my all for I know we reap what we sow in life. Right now I'm in search of that special somebody to come into my life. I want a chance to start a new chapter in my life, so my life with you will be like an open book and together we will make the patient to want a new friend in your life, your world. I'm sure I'll only make it worth both our time and effort we spend while getting to know each other sweeter than sweet.

I'm fifty four years old December 29th 1958.

I'm from Los Angeles California I grew up in Pomona California right out side of L.A.

I like to watch sports listen to old music and fix up old cars well drop me a few lines and find out all about me. Gregory
