Finding The "Straight Edge" In Fiji

By Garth Franklin

Monday September 25th 2006 12:35am

The $14 million psychological thriller "Straight Edge" starts shooting October 2nd in Fiji with Peter Stormare, Mila Kunis and Gregory Smith headlining reports Variety.

Story's about a group of troubled teens sent to a rehabilitation program housed in a remote camp on the island of Fiji.

What their parents believe is a state-of-the-art deluxe institution in a beautiful natural environment turns out to be a prison-like boot camp where they are abused and brainwashed.

Christian Duguay ("The Art of War") is directing a script from John Cox and Agatha Dominik.
